logo primary logo

gaja's primary logo will be just the script in Funky Dori. This will familiarize our users with our company's name. As gaja becomes more popular, the focus will shift towards a more condensed look.

logo secondary logo gaja's secondary logo is condensed and well-balanced. The leading "g" is taken from the Funky Dori script font. The pink and yellow slivers following it are equal in width. All three elements combined within the circle represent a heard of elephants, a call back to gaja's early conception as Ellee. As gaja becomes more popular, the focus will shift towards a more condensed look with the circular logo becoming primary and the script logo becoming secondary.

03

logo inappropriate usage

The script logo must always be script only and the circle logo must always be circle only. Please see below for examples of inappropriate usage.

- 01 do not place the circle logo on top, to the right or left of the script logo.
- 02 do not replace the “g” in the script font with the circle logo.
- 03 do not use unapproved colors for the circle logo.
- 04 do not use unapproved colors for the script logo.

typography primary typefaces

Sofia Pro and Proxima Nova are the chosen typefaces for the gaja brand. Sofia Pro is a geometric sans serif family. Sofia Pro is clean with a little bit of softness, the perfect font to reflect the thoughtful nature of the gaja brand. Proxima Nova is a crisp, neutral font which compliments Sofia Pro's rounded profile. Proxima Nova will be used for only body copy.

Note: In instances where Sofia Pro Regular becomes too difficult to read, Sofia Pro Medium should be used.

Size

The size of the font used can shift the look and feel of a design element or layout. Different sizes should have driven purposes so that the message that is intended can be communicated effectively.

Leading

Leading refers to the space present between lines of type, also known as “line spacing.” Leading is measured as the distance between one baseline of type to the next. When choosing an appropriate leading, consideration must be given so as not to make the copy too distracting or hard to read.

Alignment

Headings and body copy must be left-aligned.

When creating marketing and branding materials for gaja, it's essential that typefaces adhere to the following guidelines to ensure a smooth and uniform look and feel throughout the brand. Headings must always be in lowercase, set in Sofia Pro Black. Sub-headings must also be lowercase and the same size as the heading but set in Sofia Pro Regular. The first letter of the sub-subheading must be capitalized and be two-thirds the size of the heading and sub-heading. Sub-subheadings must be set in Proxima Nova Light. Body copy must be set in Proxima Nova regular. Numbers used in elements like the calendar function within the app must be relatively smaller than the headings, sub-headings and sub-subheadings.

color primary colors

gaja's primary colors are gaja blue, gaja pink, gaja gold, white and off-black. gaja blue is the dominant color with gaja pink and gaja yellow used for emphasis.

These five colors should be used with intention and purpose, not haphazardly. The use of white space, especially within the app is key as it provides a clean and clutter-free space for the user. Minimalism is key.

gaja's secondary colors are only to be used for functions within the app (i.e. "approve" or "exit" functions).

For the gaja brand, headings will be pink in most instances and body text is always off-black.

01 when in light-mode, headings must always be pink and body text must always be off-black.

02 when in dark-mode, headings must always be yellow and body text must always be white.
